

Book Club 2021 - February Recommendation

All This Time by Mikki Daughtry and Rachael Lippincott

Have you ever had a dream so realistic that you are not sure if it really happened or not? Kyle suffered severe head trauma in a car accident that killed his girlfriend, Kimberley, but he keeps seeing her. He knows she can't be there, but it seems so real. How can he determine what is real and what is a dream and how will it affect his healing?

Indigenous Focus

I don't read graphic novels, but many students do, so I am including suggestions from the collection of Indigenous graphic novels in the library. These books combine written and visual story telling and present difficult and complicated issues. They are accompanied by some amazing illustrations. If you have any questions about any of these books, I would be happy to answer them.

Totally Unrelated – Tom Ryan

Neil is part of his family's band, the Family McClintock. They travel around the Maritimes playing Celtic music. He doesn't really like Celtic music, nor does he feel he is as talented as the rest of the family.

His friend convinces him to start a band and play the music he likes. They work hard and enter a talent contest. The family gets invited to open for a famous country star, a huge opportunity for the family. But, it coincides with the date of the talent show. Who will he disappoint? Regardless of what he chooses to do, he will either let down his family or his friends. Will he learn who has his back?
